- We are about to celebrate the Independence day of several Latin American countries. Do you know which ones?
- In a survey during the first two weeks of school here at RRHS, our Spanish students showed the following learning styles:

Auditory: 21%

Visual: 66%

Tactile/Kinesthetic: 23%

Do you know what is your child's learning style? And your own learning style?

En pocas palabras

Welcome to our first newsletter! In this section you will find a short note from me, Sra. Núñez, talking about recent and future events in our class. At this time I want to thank those parents/guardians who stopped at our classroom during our School Open House. I was delighted to meet you. I also look forward to meet parents who were not here that day. Hopefully you can join us for one or many events we are planning for you this school year!

Students have been learning about the teacher's expectations and ways to work. Some are already responding with great quality work and participation. Other students will need some support from home and from me. Please make sure your child takes advantage of our daily tutorials, either before or after school. In our class the grades are given according to the effort observed in each student.

"If you talk to [someone] in a language [he or she] understands, that goes to [the person's] head. If you talk to [somebody] in [his or her] language, that goes to [the] heart."

-Nelson Mandela

This quote was voted as the favorite quote about learning a second language, between students in my Spanish classes this year!

Spanish students create "Ojos de dios" as part of our hands-on learning strategies during exploration of the Aztec and Maya cultures.

If you want to see your child featured in our newsletter, please make sure we have permission to take his/her pictures during class events. Thank you!
